DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, and 10-14, drawn to a nucleic acid molecule encoding a branching enzyme, a vector comprising said nucleic acid, a host cell comprising said nucleic acid, a transgenic plant comprising said nucleic acid, a method for producing a branching enzyme, and a method for producing a transgenic plant classified in class 800, subclass 278, for example.
- II. Claim 6, drawn to a method for producing a branching enzyme in an in-vitro system, classified in class 435, subclass 814, for example.
- III. Claims 7 and 9, drawn to a protein which produces alpha-1,6-branched alpha-1,4-glucans in in-vitro systems, classified in class 930, subclass 10, for example.
- IV. Claim 8, drawn to an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1 for example.
- V. Claims 15-16, drawn to starch, classified in class 127, subclass 65, for example.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I-V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions have different designs, different modes of operation and different effects.

Invention I requires plant transformation steps and materials, plant breeding steps, and vectors and nucleic acid sequences not required by any other invention.

Invention II requires transcription and translation components and materials not required by any other invention.

Invention III requires a protein and enzymatic activity not required by any other invention.

Invention IV requires antibody production and isolation steps not required by any other invention.

Invention V requires starch isolation steps and materials not required by any other invention.

For the reasons given above, Inventions I-V are distinct from one another and restriction is therefore proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Brent Page whose telephone number is (514)-272-5914. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8-5.
